ABSTRACT

Comprehensive information about off-campus instructional locations of the State University of New York (SUNY) is presented. REsults of the Instructional Locations away from the Main Campus Survey, Fall 1988, are summarized. Five tables are: summary data on the 409 instructional locations away from the main campus that were reported; detail data by institution on each of the reported 409 instructional locations; details on 46 instructional locations away from the main campus which meet New York State Education Department (NYSED) requirements for branch campuses, interinstitutional programs or exceptions by offering complete academic programs leading to a certificate or degree; 24 locations which meet the NYSED requirements for extension centers or interinstitutional centers; and the 339 locations which currently meet the NYSED requirements for extension sites of interinstitutional sites. Results include the following: there were 47,486 registrations in 3,110 courses during the fall 1988 term; 145 of the locations are at least 4 years old, 105 are over 10 years old, and 21 are over 20 years old; and of the 2,673 faculty members teaching at all locations, 1,854 are employed at the main campus. Two appendices provide a map of State University institutions and dates of establishment of SUNY institutions. (SM)

INTRODUCTION

This is the fourth report prepared by the Office of Institutional Research providing comprehensive information about off-campus instructional locations of the State University of New York. It summarizes the results of the Instructional Locations Away from the Main Campus Survey, Fall 1988 (Survey 88-58).

This Survey was designed to collect information in support of the 1980 NYSED regulations regarding off-campus instruction [Subdivisions (r), (s), and (t) of Section 50.1 and Part 54 of the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education]. According to CEO Memorandom 80-16, Implementation of New Regulations on Off-Campus Instruction, "The purpose of these regulations is to assure that off-campus instruction meets the quality standards required of all degree-credit instruction in New York and that it is fully integrated into our system of comprehensive, statewide planning for postsecondary education. The effective integration of off-campus instruction into postsecondary planning is necessary so that high quality and broad access will continue to be associated in New York with the effective use of resources and with a rich diversity of institutions and programs."

The NYSED off-campus regulations classify all instruction offered for credit at a location other than the institution's principal center into four categories: branch campuses, extension centers, extension sites and exceptions. Generally, branch campuses and extension centers need prior approval to operate. A branch campus needs Regents approval, i.e., master plan amendment, charter amendment, Regents permission, as appropriate [Commissioner's Regulations 54.1 (a) and (b)]. An extension center needs the Commissioner's approval to begin to operate [Commissioner's Regulations 54.1 (c) and (d)]. Extension sites or exceptions to the Commissioner's Regulations require no separate approval. For NYSED definitions of these terms see the Definitions section of this publication, page ix.

There are five tables contained in this report. All tables pertain to Fall 1988 data. Table I presents summary information on the 409 instructional locations away from the main that were reported. Table II presents detail information by institution on each of the reported 409 instructional locations.

Table III details the 46 instructional locations away from the main campus which meet the NYSED requirements for branch campuses, interinstitutional programs or exceptions by offering complete academic programs leading to a certificate or degree.

Table IV presents the 24 locations which meet the NYSED requirements for extension centers or interinstitutional centers, i.e., not offering a complete academic program but offering more than 15 credit courses or having more than 350 course registrations.

Table V indicates the 339 locations which currently meet the NYSED requirements for extension sites or interinstitutional sites, i.e., not offering a complete academic program and offering 15 or less courses for credit and having 350 or less course registrations.

The publication of this report could not have been accomplished without the full cooperation of the individual institutional respondents. We appreciate their cooperation and efforts that went into providing these data. We would also like to thank Mr. Roy Spoor and Ms. Mary Paratore for editing data tables, Mr. Paul Ferguson and Ms. Patty Lavery for preparing this report for publication.

SUMMARY OF DATA

This publication summarizes the responses of the State University of New York institutions to the 1988 survey of Instructional Locations Away from the Main Campus (88-58) administered by the Central Staff Office of Institutional Research.

The purpose of this survey is to collect select information from all instructional locations away from the main campus which offer credit courses. These locations have been established for several reasons including: (a) for the convenience of the students attending by facilitating their access to the instructional services of the college, (b) because of the nature of the academic program pursued, (c) due to an agreement with the Sponsoring County of a Community College or (d) some other impelling reason which is specified.

Examination of the data contained in this report, especially Tables I and II, indicate that in Fall 1988 there were 409 instructional locations away from the main campus reported by State University of New York institutions. Table I contains summary data for all reported locations while Table II presents detailed information for each reported location. Tables III, IV, and V identify these locations according to State of New York classifications for instructional locations away from the main campus (Section 50.1 of the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education). Of the 409 reported locations, 46 or 11% meet the Commissioner's Regulations for branch campuses and these locations are summarized in Table III. Twenty-four (6%) of the 409 locations meet the Commissioner's Regulations for extension centers and are presented in Table IV. The majority of locations (339 or 83%) meet the Commissioner's Regulations for extension sites and these locations are presented in Table V.

Of the number of locations identified, 161 (or 39.4%) were reported by State-operated/funded institutions while 248 (or 60.6%) were reported by the Community Colleges. There were 47,486 registrations in 3,110 courses during the Fall 1988 term. This registration statistic is not an unduplicated headcount, instead it is a total of all the registrations in all courses at these locations.

The data reveal that 145 (or 35.5%) of these locations are at least four years old. One hundred and five (or 25.7%) locations are over ten years old while 21 (or 5.1%) locations are over 20 years old. These mature locations comprise the bulk of our instructional activities away from the main campus sites. Seventy-nine percent of all registrations (37,599) and eighty-two percent (2,547) of all courses are reported at these mature locations.

Of the 2,673 faculty members teaching at all locations, 1,854 (or 69.4%) are employed at the main campus. There are 834 faculty members (or 31.2%) employed full-time at the main campus, while 1,021 (or 38.2%) faculty members are employed on a part-time basis at the main campus. Another 818 (or 30.6%) of the faculty are not employed at main campus locations. Among the latter, for example, are nationally known labor studies leaders, local businesspeople, and other highly skilled experts.

Although there are examples of instructional locations which are quite distant from the main campus, the great majority of the locations reported (82.7%) are within commuting distance (50 miles) of the main campus. Five percent of the locations are very distant (over 100 miles) from the main campus. A majority of these cases are examples of instances in which the particular location was necessitated by the nature of the academic program being offered.

An examination of the data regarding reasons for establishing an instructional location away from the main campus reveals that over ninety percent of the locations were programmatically necessitated due to the nature of the academic program being offered and/or for the convenience of students. Another 9.5% of the locations were established for other reasons. Some of the reasons cited among this last category include: sites requested by the United States Air Force, historical gifts of land to be used for a specific purpose, and sites requested by correctional facilities for inmate education programs.

Of particular interest is the extent to which these off-campus locations are a part of the fabric of the community college system of the State. A majority of the locations, 248 (or 60.64%) were reported by community colleges. Of the 47,486 registrations reported, 32,662 (or 68.8%) were reported by community college locations. Of the 3,110 courses offered, 2,156 (or 69.3%) are offered by community colleges. In addition, 95% of the 248 locations reported by community colleges are located within 50 miles of the main instructional location of the institution. These data seem to indicate that the community colleges are fulfilling the mission of community institutions. The data strongly support the case that these institutions are serving the citizens of the sponsoring location whose tax money supports the operation of the college.

The academic programs whose requirements can be met in part or whole by the courses offered at these instructional locations vary from location to location. Of the 409 locations included in this study, 228 (or 55.7%) offer courses for majors in specific academic programs. The other 181 (or 44.3%) locations offer courses that are not specifically designed for majors and are classified as "general education" courses.

Reporting institutions indicate that 250 (or 61.1%) of the 409 locations serve special clientele groups such as: government or public service personnel, educators, special interest groups, military personnel, prisoners or others as indicated. Some of these locations also serve the general public and these locations are noted in Table II. One hundred and fifty-nine locations (or 38.9%) specifically serve students of the general public. General public in this study has been designated as those students not defined by the special clientele listed on the survey.

A comparison with the earliest report, Instructional Locations Away From The Main Campus, Fall 1979, reveals that from Fall 1979 to Fall 1988 there was an increase of 61 locations (17.5%) away from the main campus. Registrations increased by 9,270 (or 24.3%) during this time. It is evident from these numbers that the people of the State of New York are well served by these off-campus instructional locations. Additional locations away from the main campus are serving the needs of increasing numbers of students as well as helping to fulfill the missions of the institutions of the State University of New York.

DEFINITION OF OFF-CAMPUS TERMS

Academic programs whose requirements can be met in part or whole by these courses - Listing of approved academic programs and awards whose requirements can be met in part or in whole by courses taught at a specific location. The source of approved academic programs and awards is the "State University of New York Official Academic Program Inventory."

Branch Campus or Interinstitutional Program - A category of off-campus instruction defined as a unit of an institution located at a place other than the institution's principal center or another degree-granting institution, at which the institution offers one or more curricula leading to a certificate or degree. When a certificate or degree program is conducted on the campus of another degree-granting institution, the program is called an interinstitutional program (from the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education, pursuant to Section 207 of the Education Law, Section 50.1).

Characteristics of Faculty - Total number of faculty teaching at this location during Fall 1986 term and information on whether these faculty are: (a) employed at the main campus full-time; (b) employed at the main campus part-time; or (c) not employed at the main campus.

Clientele served - A listing by code (see footnote specifics) of special clientele or general public clientele.

Complete program or academic program whose total requirements can be met at this center - As indicated by each institution - a listing of approved academic programs and awards whose total requirements can be met by courses offered at this location over a period of time.

Continuity of operation - Indication of whether operation of this center has been continuous or intermittent.

Credit course instruction - Information on total number of courses taught in Fall 1987 and level; undergraduate, graduate, first-professional.

Exceptions - A category of off-campus instruction that exempts an institution from the branch campus and extension center provisions. An off-campus location will qualify for exemption for any of the following reasons: (a) outside of NYS or on Federal territory; (b) clinical or practice sites; (c) courses offered to high school students in high schools; (d) inside correctional facilities; (e) Native American reservations; (f) other exemptions granted by the Commissioner (from the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education, pursuant to Section 207 of the Education Law, Section 54.2).

Extension Center or Interinstitutional Center - A category of off-campus instruction defined as a unit of an institution located at a place other than the institution's principal center or another degree-granting institution, at which the institution does not offer any curricula leading to a certificate or degree, but at which the institution either conducts more than fifteen courses for credit or has more than three hundred fifty course registrations for credit in any academic year. When another degree-granting institution is used as the off-campus location, the location is referred to as an interinstitutional center (from the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education, pursuant to Section 207 of the Education Law, Section 50.1).

Extension Site or Interinstitutional Site - A category of off-campus location defined as a unit of an institution located at a place other than the institution's principal center or another degree-granting institution, at which the institution does not offer any curricula leading to a certificate or degree, and at which the institution conducts no more than fifteen courses for credit and has no more than three hundred fifty course registrations for credit in any academic year. When off-campus instruction is conducted at another degree-granting institution, the location is referred to as an interinstitutional site. (Excerpt from the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education, pursuant to Section 207 of the Education Law, Section 50.1).

Instructional locations away from the main campus - Refers to a site other than the principal instructional center of an institution at which courses are offered. Instructional activities which take the student away from the principal location of the institution for field experience such as student teaching, field trips, practicums, etc. are not included.

Miles from main campus - Total number of miles away from main campus is indicated for each instructional location.

Number of years - The number of years this particular instructional location has been in operation.

Reason for location - Reasons for establishing this location include: (a) for the convenience of students; (b) because of the nature of the academic program pursued; or (c) due to an agreement with the sponsoring county of a community college.

Registrations in credit courses - This is the total number of credit course registrations for the Fall 1986 academic term. This may be a duplicated count.

TABLE II FOOTNOTES

[a]Excluding Empire State College.

[b]Reason for Location - Due to space limitations on this table, reasons for establishing instructional locations away from the main campus are indicated as follows:

Necess. - Programmatically Necessitated - Location was established away from the main campus due to the particular nature of the academic program being pursued.

Conven. - Convenience of Students - Location was established away from the main campus for the convenience of the students attending to facilitate their access to the institutional services of the college.

Sponsor - Location provided by Sponsor County - For Community Colleges only, the location was established away from the main campus because one of the Sponsoring Counties of the college provided the location.

[c]Continuity of Operation - Due to limitation of space on this table, for locations in operation longer than one year the continuity of the operation is indicated as follows:

Continuous - Continuous Operation - Regular operation - each or nearly each academic term.

Intermit. - Intermittent Operation - Sporadic operation due to need as expressed by the prospective clientele.

[d]Clientele Served - This section indicated the student clientele whose educational interests are served at the location.

General - General Public - Student clientele not defined by the special listed below.

Special - Special Clientele - Clientele who attend this location because a special instructional activity has been designed at this location especially for them. On this table these clientele are coded as follows:

Code Number	Special Clientele
10	Employees of Specific Business & Industry
11	Government/Public Service Personnel
12	Educators
13	Special Interest Groups
14	Specific Professions & Vocations (e.g. law, nursing, accounting)

TABLE III FOOTNOTES

[a]Excluding Empire State College.

[b]Reason for Location - Due to space limitations on this table, reasons for establishing instructional locations away from the main campus are indicated as follows:

Necess. - Programmatically Necessitated - Location was established away from the main campus due to the particular nature of the academic program being pursued.

Conven. - Convenience of Students - Location was established away from the main campus for the convenience of the students attending to facilitate their access to the institutional services of the college.

Sponsor - Location provided by Sponsor County - For Community Colleges only, the location was established away from the main campus because one of the Sponsoring Counties of the college provided the location.

[c]Continuity of Operation - Due to limitation of space on this table, for locations in operation longer than one year the continuity of the operation is indicated as follows:

Continuous - Continuous Operation - Regular operation - each or nearly each academic term.

Intermit. - Intermittent Operation - Sporadic operation due to need as expressed by the prospective clientele.

General - General Public - Student clientele not defined by the special listed below.

Special - Special Clientele - Clientele who attend this location because a special instructional activity has been designed at this location especially for them. On this table these clientele are coded as follows:

Code Number	Special Clientele
10	Employees of Specific Business & Industry
11	Government/Public Service Personnel
12	Educators
13	Special Interest Groups
14	Specific Professions & Vocations (e.g. law, nursing, accounting)
15	Service organizations
16	Military personnel
17	Prisoners or other institutional inmates
18	High School students

FOOTNOTE

a As of Fall 1988, these institutions meet the NYSED definition of "extension sites" or "interinstitutional sites" because to date they offer no more than 15 credit courses and have no more than 350 course registrations in the academic year (Section 50.1 of the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education). If Spring courses and enrollments bring the locations over these figures, then they would be "extension centers" or "interinstitutional centers" by NYSED definitions, unless they are categorical exceptions, such as prison sites, clinical or practice sites, etc. See the definitions section of this publication for a more complete listing of categorical exceptions.

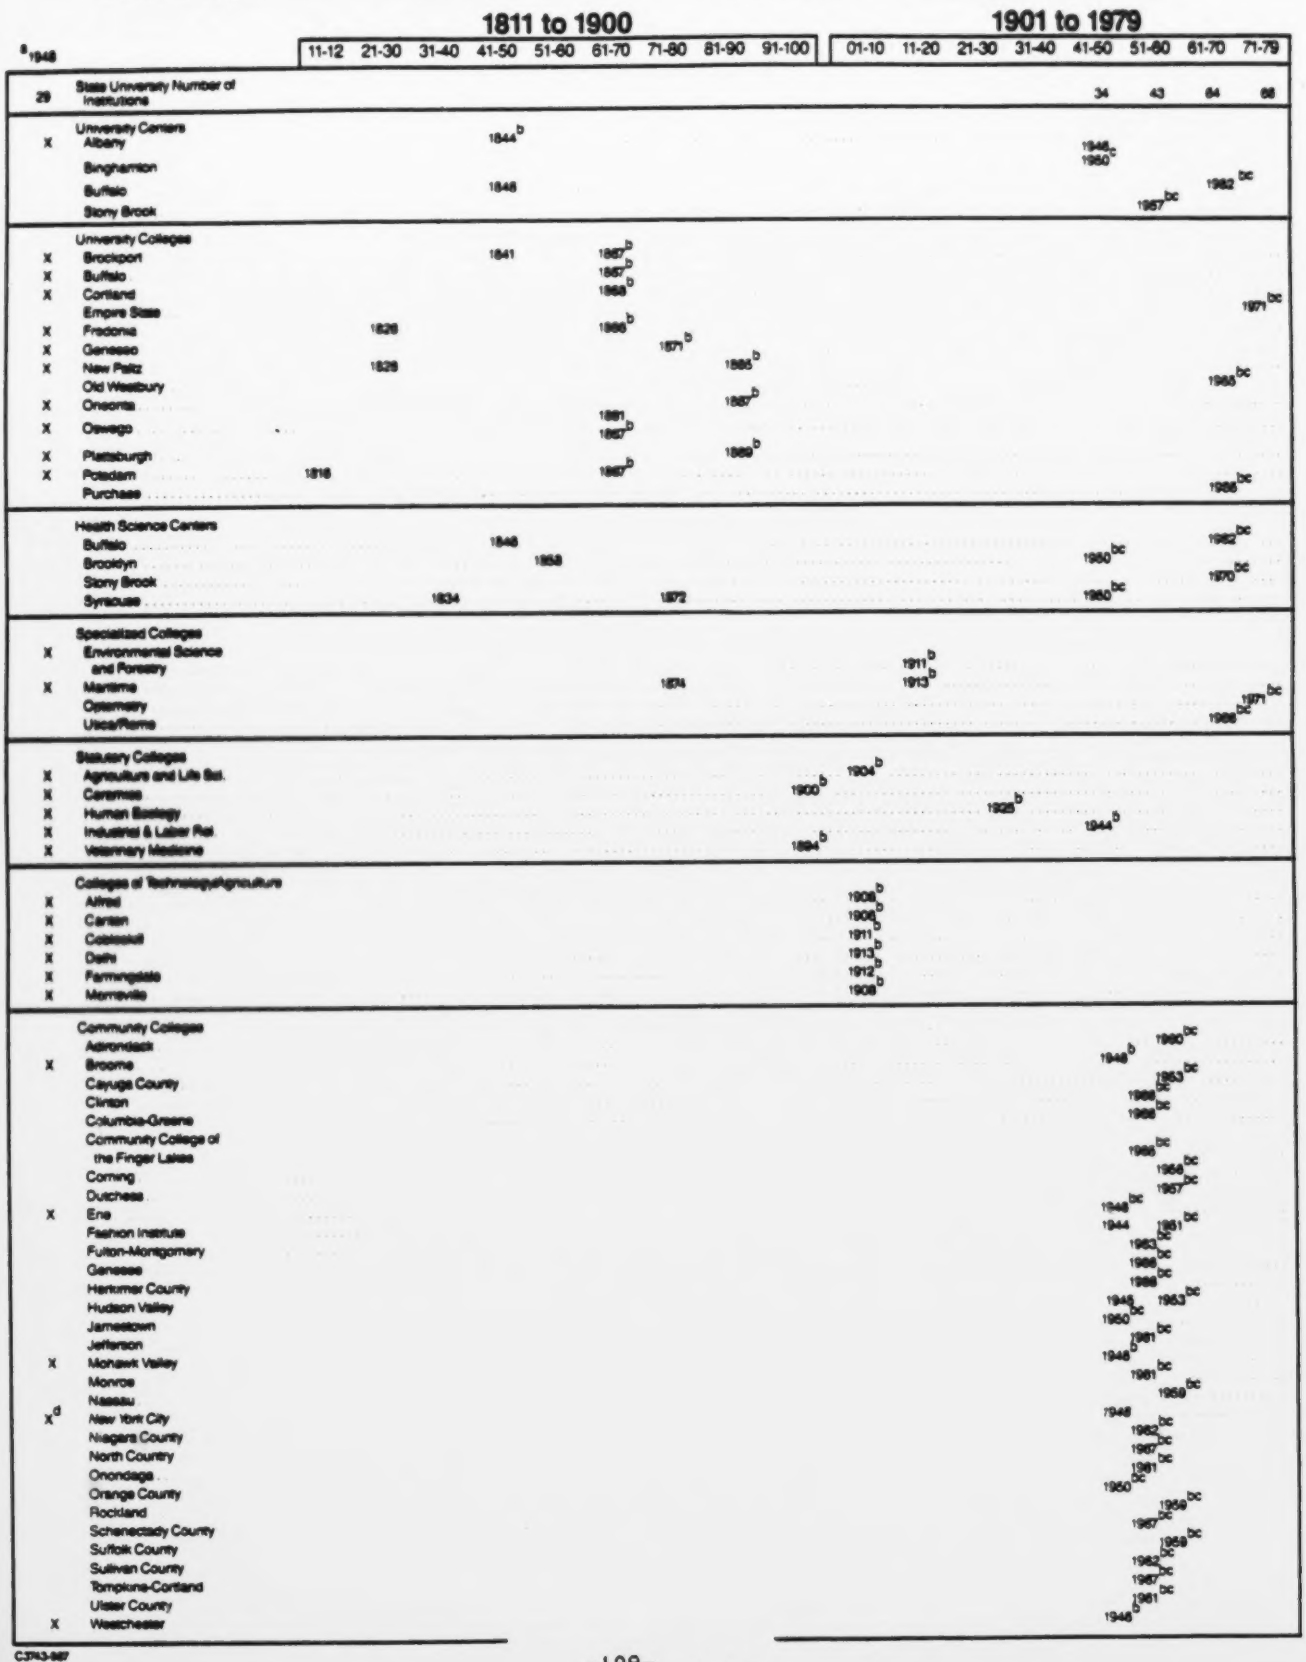
Chronology of Dates of Establishment of Institutions of the State University of New York



C3743-887

FOOTNOTES

[a]Original constituent institutions of the State University of New York at its establishment in 1948.

[b]Date of establishment as a state college or institution.

[c]Date of incorporation into State University of New York.

[d]As of July 1, 1975, New York City Community College and the other community colleges (not shown here) sponsored by the New York City Board of Higher Education were no longer a part of the State University of New York.

NOTE: Dates preceding date indicated for establishment as a state college or institution refer to institutional antecedents of the present college or university. These my have been private institutions or controlled by a governmental entity other than the state. Intermediate institutional developments such as other college affiliation or date of first baccalaureate program offering have been omitted for the sake of brevity.
